been in failing health for several years and death was due to in-

She was 84 years old and had been a member of the Christian church for more than half a century.

Deceased was a sister of the late
W. P. Cox, formerly of Newstead.
Services were conducted Saturday by Rev. J. C. Tate, of the Presbyterian church Saturday morning and the interment took

GOOD ONE AT LAST.

Hopkinsville Caught a Gully-Washer Sunday.

Best Rain For Nearly Three Months—Soaks the Earth and Revives Vegetation.

At last Hopkinsville has occupied a coveted position underneath one of the rain clouds that have been emptying themselves in this section since the drouth was broken.

During the entire month of July only one little shower fell, amounting to .55 of an inch. On August 5 a better shower came, but it hardly did more than settle the dust for a couple of days. But Sunday afternoon we got the best rain for months. It rained hard for 35 minutes, the fall amounting to 1 1/4 inches. The thirsty earth was thoroughly soaked and the drouth is happily ended. If the rain was general, it means a great deal to the crops of the county.
Late corn can yet be saved and the pastures will be revived.

The blessing came late but "better late than never."

WOMAN KILLED.

By a "Flying Dutchman" at the Madisonville Fair.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 10.—A woman was killed yesterday at the Madisonville fair grounds by a "Flying Dutchman" striking her.
Her name could not be learned.

The woman had just stepped from the machine after taking a ride and was waiting to see it move again.
She did not know that she was in the way and when the machine began to move it struck her a terrible blow, knocking her several feet away. She was carried to a tent where she died in a few minutes.

A few minutes later the Ferris wheel on the grounds became uncontrollable and ran several rounds at a terrific rate. A seat fell on the head of a woman who was standing near and knocked her senseless.
She recovered after some time.
When the machine was finally stopped it left a car full of people in the air. They had to remain there for two hours before they could be rescued. When taken from the car the women who were in the car were exhausted. The sun was fearfully hot and the excitement was more than the passengers could stand.

yesterday was so much worse that it is clear that he will not be able ment to all of the soldier boys, with whom he is very popular. Dr. C.

H. Tandy, formerly Captain of Co.

STEEL STRIKE.

Shaffer Issues General Order to Steel Workers.

Three Big Illinois Mills Vote to Ignore the Strike—Talk of Settlement.

Pittsburg, Aug. 11.—Accurate figures of the number of men out on strike in the Steel mills cannot be given until Monday, when it is seen how many of them return to work.
They were given their money in all of the mills this evening and there was nothing said about whether they would be back Monday or not.

Excellent order prevails at every point, and the strikers say that so far as they are concerned the mill owners could dispense with watchmen. At Benwood, W. Va., all the men in the skip mill laid down their tools and announced that they would not be back to work Monday.

There is no danger of the strike at Homestead. After the troubles there in 1892 all of the union men were weeded out of the mill, and they have not been allowed to return.

There is some talk of settlement, but it appears that it will not come short of a surrender. The situation to-night seems to favor the strikers, but it is unquestionable that the trust can hold out longer than the men if the stockholders do not get tired.

The work of dismantling the Wood plant at McKeesport goes on.
The reason is the authorities of the town would not insure protection to the non-union men. The same course will be pursued at Elwood, Anderson and Muncie, Ind.

ILLINOIS PLANTS REFUSE

To Obey the General Strike Order
From Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Aug. 11.—The ironmasters are to-night claiming victory in the great steel strike. They base their claim upon the refusal of the Amalgamated men at South Chicago, Joliet and Bay View to obey the general strike order of President Shaffer, and their success in maintaining operations in other plants where it was anticipated that there would be serious trouble. The strike leaders meet the claims of victory with the assertion that their cause is making satisfactory progress and that they will show themselves masters of the situation before the contest has progressed much further. They do not conceal their disappointment at the refusal of their Western brethren to join with them in the strike, but none of the leaders would discuss the defection.

We had a good rain last Monday and the farmers were all ready for it. Corn is badly damaged in the neighborhood by the drouth and the best farmers estimate that not more than a third of a crop will be made.

Tobacco is looking tolerably well and is being topped. The dry weather caused it to run up with small stalk and short leaf and many farmers think not more than half crop will be housed. The worms are scarcer than ever known before.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Conditions and Prospects, Aug. 1,
As Reported by Commissioner I. B. Nall.

Frankfort, Aug. 3, 1901.

The report of this bureau giving conditions July 1 indicated for most of the staple crops a shortage as compared with the ten-year average or with the last year. A three to four weeks' general drouth, extending nearly over every section of the State, followed and added very greatly to the injury already done such crops as were still growing. The small grain crops were in the shock and were not affected, but corn, tobacco, stock peas, meadows and pastures were seriously damaged, while the condition of live stock falls off as a natural consequence. Some scattering showers fell in spots, affording partial relief, about the middle of the month, but it was not until the 26th, that a precipitation sufficient to revive the suffering corn and tobacco occurred. Even then, though it rained more or less until the 31st, there were sections where there was none or not enough to do much good. There are seventeen official weather stations maintained by the Government in Kentucky, and the total rainfall in inches or parts at each for the period above mentioned was as follows: Bardstown, .05; Bowling Green, .71; Earlington, 2.43; Greensburg, .10; Henderson, 1.20; Hopkinsville, .55; Lexington, 2.29; Louisville, .53; Maysville, .21; Mt. Sterling, 1.05; Owensboro, 1.89; Paducah, .55; Richmond, .30; Shelbyville, .44; St. John, Hardin county, .28; Williamsburg, 1.54.

It will be seen that these stations are well distributed and cover practically every portion of the State, and it may be said that some rain fell in every county, but a precipitation of less than half an inch is too homoeopathic a dose for so serious a drouth as the present one. Unless more rain falls very soon in sections where there was less than half an inch the damage will only be checked, not repaired.

The early corn and tobacco have suffered most, and in the sections favored with ample rains the early crops will be helped and good for over a half crop, while the late may do as well with favorable season henceforth. The loss of gardens will cause serious inconvenience also. There is no sovereign rule for estimating the effect of a drouth, such as many claim has had no equal since 1854, but our correspondents have made their figures, and we tabulate and give them by crop divisions and as a whole. In such times it behooves farmers to save every particle of roughness on their places for the stock next winter and sow rye, rape, crimson clover, etc., for winter and early spring pasture and the latter especially for the earliest hay next spring. Sorghum may be sown now and make some forage for fall feeding. The rush to unload surplus stock on the market will cause a decline in price and should not be done where it is possible to feed through the winter.

Corn falls off thirty-three points in condition since July 1, and to hacco losses twenty-three points. Hemp losses twenty-eight points, and stock peas lose seventeen points. Late meadows lose some, but pastures are badly burned up. Fruit also suffers a decline in condition, all due to the heat and drouth.

Then, in utter ignorance, the maiden must meet physical problems whose solution will affect her whole future life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been named a "God-send to women." MISFORTUNES OF WEALTH.

Housekeeper and Landlord Stripped the Rich Man's Home.

"Wealth has misfortunes of its own," remarked a gentleman recently who lives north of Canal street, to a New Orleans Times-Democrat reporter, "and I had occasion several days ago to see the really funny side of a thing that happened to a lucky man. Up to a few months ago he was a very poor fellow, a sort of Lazarus in whose face the rich man might shake his tablecloth without running the risk of offering a serious affront. But the oil boom which hit Beaumont brought good luck to this poor man, and he suddenly began to rise in the world in a financial way. The first streak of good luck that hit him caused him to give up his job, and he began to improve things about his home. He hired a housekeeper, bought a whole lot of nice and expensive things, and was simply rioting in a small way on account of his good luck at Beaumont. He bought silverware and things of that sort. He finally pulled out for Beaumont, where he could watch his interests and add to a fortune which had already reached the million-dollar mark. He remained away for some time, and reports of his continued good luck reached his housekeeper and his landlord, and they never dreamed that he would return to New Orleans. He was simply too rich to think about the little things in the little home—the little furnishings, the little silverware, the little what-not and other little things. Thus thinking, they concluded that they would confer, one with the other, the one being the landlord and the other being the housekeeper. So they did. They conferred, and then decided to divide the deserted estate, taking share and share alike, spoon for spoon, as one might say. There was no hitch in the division, and the landlord and the housekeeper separated on friendly terms and in the best of spirits. Really, they felt like Beaumont's boom had hit them in a small way. But the fellow returned, like a fellow will sometimes, just at the most unexpected time. And he made a straight shot for the little home which he had furnished in the first flush of his good luck. He found dust on the steps. The windows were curialness. There was no sound, no nothing to indicate the house was built for human habitation, and the poor rich man was paralyzed when he saw hanging from the gallery post the sign, 'For Rent.'

ELECTRIC ICE WATER.

How Guy Robbins, of Mayfield, Fooled the Thirsty.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 5.—Guy Robbins, the young clerk of the quarterly court, is quite a genius. He is a photographer of no mean repute, an electrician, printer, painter, tonsorial artist, type-writer and carpenter. Business was dull yesterday, so Guy fixed up a little trap for some fun. Procuring a bucket of ice water, he placed it out in the hall of the court house, then he tied a wire to the dipper, this wire being connected with a little winding battery; another wire was connected along the floor, on which the chair containing the bucket of water was sitting. When the unsuspecting colored teachers—their institute being in session—or others, would come along to take a drink, Guy, behind the door would turn his battery, and it was quite amusing to see them as they would drop the dipper and spit the water from their tingling lips. Some would get mad, while others would take it good-naturedly, but the fun never failed to materialize. He is projecting with a young $8,500 engine, and the denizens of the court house are disposed to give him all the room he wants to manipulate his instruments.

PAN-AMERICAN DOING WELL.

Comparison of Average Attendance With Former Fairs.

The average daily attendance at the Pan-American Exposition from May 1 to July 1 was 28,640. The average daily attendance at former fairs for the full terms of their duration were as follows:
Chicago, World's Columbian Exposition, 6 mos., 153,112;
California Midwinter Fair, 13,928;
Atlanta, Cotton States Exposition, 13,030;
Omaha, Transimission Exposition, 17,082;
Philadelphia, International Export Exposition, 19,283.

The comparison is highly encouraging to the Pan-American Exposition. The first two months of fairs are usually the poorest in point of attendance, owing principally to the almost general belief that the exhibitions are not completed until July. The Pan-American has passed this point and the attendance is growing daily.

By the first of August the increase in the daily average attendance will show a very large increase with the best months yet to come. The Pan-American is now complete and to see the exterior of the buildings is alone worth a long try. The illumination with 500,000 lamps is also a wondrous sight. Admission to all buildings and games in the Stadium is free.

King Edward's 12 Rules.

New regulations have been adopted for the government of the royal household, similar to those in vogue at Marlborough House, where the king has been living as Prince of Wales during the last third of a century. He has had framed and hung in prominent places in the corridors of the castle "Twelve Good Rules found in the Study of Charles I. of Blessed Memory." A note admonishes all members of the household to observe them. They are as follows:

Profane no divine ordinance.
Touch no state matters.
Ugk no health.
Pick no quarrels.
Maintain no ill opinions.
Encourage no vices.
Repeat no grievances.
Reveal no secrets.
Make no comparisons.

Admiral Sampson is to be relieved of duty pending his retirement next spring, but he cannot be easily relieved of the discredit attached to his assault upon Admiral Schley's record and reputation.

The railroad proposition had a close shave in both Nashville and Clarksville, passing in Nashville by a dozen votes and in Clarksville by only three more than the two-thirds majority needed.

John Winters, the suspect under arrest, has confessed to the gold brick robbery at Vallejo, California, and has disclosed the hiding place of the 1200 pounds of gold. He sank it in the bay and about half of the $290,000 has been recovered, and the rest probably will be found.

Since the bankrupt law went into effect three years ago, there have been nearly 2,000 persons to take advantage of the law. Creditors are now complaining that more restrictions should be thrown around the operation of the law.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Few are entirely free from it. It may develop so slowly as to cause little if any disturbance during the whole period of childhood.
It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, catarrh, and marked tendency to emaciation before manifesting itself in such cutaneous eruption or staphylococcal swelling.

The news comes from Frankfort by the way of Owensboro, that Inspector Hines will report that he found nothing wrong at the Asylum here. Why this application of whitewash has been delayed three months is the mystery in the affair. The policy of delay from the first, the character of the alleged investigation finally held in star-chamber, the holding up of the report for a month after it was said to be ready, have all tended to discredit the document in advance. If, as claimed, Judge Hines will take issue with the Board of Commissioners, the grand jury and the public and state that nothing was found to back up the sworn charges, his report will excite only derision and injure himself more than it can help its beneficiaries. The facts are too well known here, and if the Asylum mess is to be covered up, let it be known that it is over the protest of the people, the press and the sworn officers of the institution. The matter is already in the criminal courts in one phase, and can hardly escape the attention of the Legislature five months hence.

Senator McD. Ferguson, of the Paducah district, was re-nominated Saturday by the Democratic Convention at Bardwell, after a hot fight in which his opponents captured the organization of the convention. The opposition, however, could not be united and after one ballot there was a stampede to Ferguson. The convention endorsed Charlie Wheeler's candidacy for Senator.

Perhaps the asylum muddle will now subside. The steench has been covered up with a layer of official asphaltum. Those who try to pass over it, or to pass it over, should tread lightly. The friends of those at fault will, of course, use white-wash freely, but unofficially. It is hoped that insanity will not become contagious through the we will have an "insanity trust." Our insane affairs are bad, but they might be worse.—Owensboro Messenger.

The military encampment at Owensboro is now under command of Adj. Gen. D. R. Murray, who arrived Saturday. There are about 700 members of the Eastern regiment now in camp. They will leave Thursday and the Third regiment, to which the Hopkinsville soldier boys belong, will take their places for ten days.

The Steel Trust officials certainly have an effective way of dealing with local strikers. When a mill is closed they proceed at once to tear it down and start up an idle mill somewhere else, that has been closed since the Trust gobbled up the little plants a few years ago.

The Breckenridge News carries the Republican county ticket on its editorial page this year and loses no opportunity to say unkind things about Democratic leaders. Bro. Babbage seems to have wound up on the other side.

OFF FOR OLD POINT.
The Seashore Special Will Carry Large Crowd.

The crowd of Old Point excursionists will leave Louisville tomorrow, at 1:30 p. m., for the seashore. Some of the party will leave to-day over the L. C. for Louisville and will remain in that city until the departure of the special train, while others will go over the L. & N. tomorrow morning, reaching Louisville one hour before the train leaves over the Chesapeake and Ohio for Old Point Comfort.

There will be probably thirty or forty from this place and Clarksville will also furnish a large delegation. Several from Casky, Paducah, Trenton, Guthrie, Springfield, Tenn., Russellville and Bowling Green will also go on the trip. Evansville, Owensboro, Henderson, Morganfield, Madisonville, Earlington, Princeton, Uniontown, Paducah, Mayfield, Murray and several other points will also be well represented.

The trip will be made via Shelbyville, Frankfort, Lexington, Winchester and Mt. Sterling and the special is due at Old Point at 3 p. m., Aug. 15. Already there have been many sleeping car reservations made and more space will be secured to-day. The indications are that the coaches will be comfortable filled also.

This is one of the best of all trips that can be taken by people of this section and all who contemplate an outing this summer should avail themselves of this opportunity. The rates are extremely low—$16 for the round trip railroad fare—and the limit of tickets—three weeks—is sufficient for a lengthy stay.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, he had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor, who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by all druggists.

INVITATION ACCEPTED.

And Gen. Joe Wheeler Will Attend Lexington Fair.

Major General Joseph Wheeler has accepted an invitation from the Lexington Horse Show Fair and Carnival for Thursday August 15 and all Kentuckians will be given an opportunity to see and hear this hero of two wars.

The Elks have done well in inviting him to their Horse Show Fair and Carnival; all Kentucky is rejoiced that he has accepted and will be within her boundaries on Thursday August 15.

It Saved His Baby.

"My baby was terribly sick with diarrhoea, we were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. J. H. Doak, of Williams, Ore. "I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by all druggists.

Will Give Reading.

On Tuesday evening next, at Wells' Opera-house, Miss Louise Downer, of Hopkinsville, will give a reading for the benefit of the Methodist church. Miss Downer studied oratory in Boston for four years, and since her graduation has appeared before a number of the most cultivated clubs and societies in the East with great success. Those who have heard Miss Downer assure all who attend of the merit of the evening. There will be music by the best local talent—Todd County Times.

The laws of health require that the bowels move once each day and one of the penalties for violating this law is piles. Keep your bowels regular by taking a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when necessary and you will never have that severe punishment inflicted upon you by constipation. A ROLL OF HONOR.

One Suggested For Christian County.

An Old And Well Informed Citizen Submits a Plan to Create One.

EDITOR KENTUCKIAN:

Christian County has a most remarkable history in the number of great and distinguished men born in her limits, identified by residence or association with her past, and a plan is now inaugurated to put on record by votes of committees, selected from her representative men, 50 men who have most adorned her annals by the achievements of brains, energy and courage. She leads as the first producing tobacco county in the Union, with a record for wheat, corn and live stock most honorable. In the ante-bellum days at Washington, the Texas orator Wigfall facetiously remarked that Kentucky was distinguished for nothing except her horses and jacks. Our representative, Jackson, represented the remark and a duel was just averted. It is proposed that Editors Meacham, Underwood, Brasher and Monroe constitute an executive committee, that these appoint 50 committees of 3, one from each magisterial district, and two others from Hopkinsville. These committees shall vote each for 50 names of her most distinguished citizens. The vote shall be by classes, 5 for the farmers, 5 for the ministers, 5 for bankers, merchants, and manufacturers, 5 for physicians and dentists, 5 for her lawyers and judges, 5 for her officers and the other 20 votes for her most eminent citizens without reference to classes. The executive committee to count votes, decide where two are tied, and that brief sketches be published of all the parties thus selected. The names of the 25 receiving the next highest number, may be published under the title "honorable mention."

Some names are suggested: Jefferson Davis, distinguished officer, National Representative, President of S. Confederacy.

Benj. Brantow, Gen. in U. S. A. Sec. of Treasury, Attorney General.

Gen. J. Jackson, Representative, U. S. officer.

Judge Henry Stites, Atty., and Judge of Court Common Pleas, Louisville, Ky.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Walter Evans, Attorney, U. S. Com., Judge, etc.

Chas. Morehead, Attorney and Gov. of Ky.

Gus Henry, Atty., afterwards the "Eagle Orator, of Tenn."

Crockett the Eminent Attorney and Chief Justice of California.

Judge Livingston Lindsay, Atty., in Hopkinsville, and afterwards Chief Justice of Texas.

Caswell Bennett, the barefoot teamster of the Pembroke vicinity, self made, ending as Chief Justice of Ky.

Ad. Cammack, the son of the Pembroke cabinet maker, and afterwards a multi-millionaire of N. Y., who obtained perhaps the largest fortune unassisted ever made by a Christian county boy.

John C. Latham, Jr., another millionaire and ex-confederate soldier boy.

Rev. Reuben Ross, one of the founders of the Baptist church in this part of Ky.

Revs. Jas. Pendleton and J. Grubbs, eminent in their churches.

Rev. J. O. Rust, of East Nashville church and a college there.

Roger Quarles Mills, the Texas Senator, with National fame.

Linn Boyd once a resident.

In medicine the Yellow House precinct sent Dr. Morrow, one of founders of the Eclectic College at Cincinnati.

Prince Albert Morrow, of Fairview precinct, born here, as author, physician, lecturer in N. Y. City, leads as the most distinguished physician the county ever produced.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Vice President of the U. S., remarkable for great ability and all the elements of a noble manhood. Should be second to Davis.

Gen. John M. Palmer, raised in county, of obscure ancestry, honored by Illinois as her chief executive and as Senator.

Duncan, a Hopkinsville Court House clerk, gave that state another Governor.

John Downer, probably in Christian before Todd was created, had a national reputation as a Horticulturist and originator of new fruits.

J. W. Rust, a poor boy, when a teacher of primary schools, study ahead of his scholars, was rejected as a teacher in the log school house and lived to graduate children of same examiners in Bethel Female College. Few men accomplish so much.

Peter Cartwright, who lived near the Asylum and helped build up the Methodist church here; who said a distinguished Baptist Prof and Preacher, "was a man who, could do more in a day, than half a dozen of our educated preachers could accomplish in a week."

Dr. Rodman as a Superintendent of Asylum, for efficiency and length of service never equaled in the state.

John P. Campoli, Sr., Livingston Leavell, Isaac Garrett, Chiles T. Barker, Wm. T. Radford, and others noted for number of acres of the finest farming lands, "Wheat Kings" etc.

We have manufacturing enterprises not equaled in the state outside of Louisville. Brains not all ways educated but will and the "dare to do" have made these records and our Roll of Honor, which marks a part of our century's progress. If these records shall be printed and preserved for our school boys, the next century will be more resplendent in its roll of honor, because of greater opportunities, but not on account of greater pluck and push than marked the 19th century.

HE PREFERS DEATH.

Convict Who Refuses to Bring Disgrace on His Family Name.

"I know of many cases where men have preferred death by suicide to disgrace for themselves and pain and mortification for their families, but I have always held, and always will believe, men who commit suicide under these circumstances are moral cowards," said the man who is interested in criminology, to a New Orleans Times-Democrat writer. "At first thought it might appear that it requires nerve for a man to pull the trigger of a pistol that is placed at his head, or to swallow the poison that is to end life. But it is the fear of the life before him—the coward's fear—that nerves a man to the point of desperation at which he takes his life. It is generally held that the suicide is in at least a state of temporary aberration of mind at the time he takes his life, no matter what might have been his mental condition an hour before. Of course, suicide to save wife and children disgrace always brings more disgrace upon them, for invariably the cause is brought out by the self-inflicted death. The wife and children who are left behind are invariably disgraced far more by the crime and suicide than they would have been had the husband and father been brave enough to have lived to atone for wrong, because the finger of the world is invariably pointed at the widow and children of a suicide. But sometimes it requires a brave man to die to save his family name or to prevent a taint from his misdeeds being put upon it in the eyes of the world. But if a man who does this is brave, how much braver must be the man who is standing under the shadow of the gallows? This man knows he must walk upon the scaffold, face a morbidly curious or flippant and even ribald crowd, feel the touch of the rough rope about his neck and take a jump through space that the life might be choked out of him simply because he prefers even ignoble death of this kind to the mortification caused his family should they know he had been sentenced to hang. Yet there is a man in jail at Birmingham, Ala., who is to die on the scaffold this month, to pay his life for the life he took, and who, by calling upon his family and friends, might at least escape the gallows. The condemned man is a German, and he was tried and convicted for murder under the name of Miller. Now it is developed that Miller is but an assumed name. The doomed man is educated, apparently from a high station in life, is well read and widely traveled, but was addicted to drink, and drink was at the bottom of the outrageous murder he committed. The German consul at Mobile has been trying to save the life of the man, but Miller will not help him by revealing the name and address of his family. Without his true name and family address the German consul declares he will not advance the fact of Miller's German citizenship. Miller declares he will never reveal who he is to the shame of his family, and that he prefers to die even on the gallows to doing what would cause his family to bow their heads in sorrow and shame. And he is so persistent in his refusal to reveal his identity, even with his death day so close at hand, that the consul has given him up. That is what I call a brave man."

A QUEER OCCUPATION.

Women in New York Earn Good Salaries as Jewel Caretakers.

Never intrust your jewels to anyone but a professional caretaker—that is, if you have many thousand dollars' worth of them. Otherwise it doesn't so much matter.

To keep a variety of jewels brilliant and safe in their settings requires considerable experience. There are several women in New York, says the Herald, who earn good incomes among the wives of millionaires by taking care of their jewels.

During the season the caretaker makes a round of jewel boxes once a week. She carries cleaning appliances with her and will often spend several hours over a single collection. She directs what kind of case shall be used for them, in what part of the house they are to be kept, and similar details. Caretakers are, of course, heavily insured, and their compensation is correspondingly large.

Before the caretaker even touches the jewels she fastens a long apron of chamois skin about her waist. Many gowns are only handled with gloves.

One of the first offices of the caretaker is to see that jewels are protected by proper cases. The elaborate velvet and satin-lined cases in general use are discarded. The jewels should be wrapped in jewelers' tissue paper, packed in wool and laid away in airtight compartments. Jewels are affected seriously by the fumes from furnaces, sewer gas, moisture and frequently by sea air.

The jewels are tested with a sharp instrument to find if their settings are secure. The jewels, looked after by one of these caretakers never drop from their settings at unexpected moments. Throughout these examinations the caretaker uses a powerful magnifying glass. The gold or silver mountings are then thoroughly cleaned with jewelers' rouge, dried and polished. Any accumulations of dust, grease or soap on the stones are carefully removed with the aid of a very fine camel-hair brush. They are then dipped alternately in soapsuds and cologne until thoroughly cleansed.

The colors of many gems are affected by water or cleansing fluids. In the case of the turquoise the only safe fluid is alcohol mixed with whiting. Turquoise is frequently discolored by the use of water. The caretaker corrects this by soaking them in stale beer to restore the pure azure tone.

Emeralds require very delicate treatment, as do most green stones. They are cleaned by being buried in absorbent cotton saturated with alcohol. They are never rubbed, but are allowed to remain in this bath until all the alcohol has evaporated.

Pearls are cleaned with naphtha and chloroform. They should only be rubbed with the hand. The heat of human flesh keeps them in good condition. About once a year pearls should be given a special treatment to keep their skins in good condition. To do this the cleanser lays them in a cup of warm wheat flour or lukewarm fresh milk.

The caretakers are excellent judges of the value of stones, and their services are frequently in demand when new jewels are to be bought.

FOUR BEARS AT A SHOT.

A Huntsman's Remarkable Luck Up in the Maine Woods.

About seven years ago Mr. Withee was presented with two fine hounds, and wishing to try their training and their grit he took them out to do a little bear hunting, says the Maine Woods.

The first morning Withee let the dogs out for a run while he was getting the breakfast, expecting them to be back in a short time. When breakfast was over the dogs had not returned, but he was not worried. Mr. Withee started out in the direction they had taken. After traveling about a mile the faint barking of dogs could be heard and it was then plain why the dogs had not returned. They had scented game and were in pursuit. The sound of the barking led him far up the side of a mountain and soon he came in sight of the dogs standing around the upturned roots of a tree.

Mr. Withee crept up cautiously until within about 15 feet of a cave that was near by and then a black, shaggy head could be seen just above the roots. Taking good aim, he fired his 44-caliber and awaited results. After several minutes he went up to the cave, and what he saw there gave him a shock from which he has never recovered. Two bears lay dead and two more were so stunned that a few quick passes with a knife settled them.

For the four bears Mr. Withee received $20 bounty, $27.50 for their hides and $42 for the bear oil, making $99.50 for one day's hunt.

Passing of the Train Boy.

Following the example of other great railroads, the Burlington has abolished the train butcher. His passing will be noted with a feeling of satisfaction, mingled with regret. For all his faults, he held a place in the hearts of the traveling public.

The railway news agent was a character worthy of the attention of the novelist. As a type he stood alone. Like the poet, he was born, not made; and yet he was largely the creature of the tourist.

To many people he made a trip on the cars one long, hideous nightmare. To others he relieved the tedium of the journey. To be the recipient of his attentions was annoying. To watch him at his work was a pleasure. To converse with him when not talking "shop" was an education.

The train boy never knew the meaning of the word fail. When bananas did not appeal to the passengers, he substituted oranges salted peanuts or the latest novel. He selected his victim intuitively, to all appearances seldom made a mistake.

His knowledge of men and their particular weaknesses was remarkable. He knew exactly who would buy the life of Jesse James, or Talma's sermons, as soon as he had made his first trip through the train. He was no respecter of royalty, nor did he look down on the farmer in overalls. All men were equal in his eyes, and nearly all his prey.

He would have been a millionaire only that he lacked opportunities. He was a worthy predecessor of J. Pierpont Morgan and could be said to have commanded the capital the latter does would have made him stars.

When he is gone there will be no other to take his place. His was a peculiar vocation. There is none other like it in the world.

The train boy will not be forgotten. He will be loved, if only for the enemies he had made.

THE PARASITES OF MAN.

Something About Microbes—Not All of Them Dangerous to Health.

"The Floum of Man" may seem at first sight somewhat inexplicable, but it formed the subject of a highly interesting address delivered before the Manchester Literary and Philosophical society by Dr. E. Metchnikoff, of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, says the London Chronicle. The lecturer's text was the distribution of microbes—which are "floum" of all lower kind—within man's frame. All germs are not disease-producing. Many of them are our friends, while some are undoubtedly our foes, and very grim and powerful enemies, indeed. For example, it was shown that our digestive system is a territory wherein a large number of microbes disport themselves, many species aiding the digestive processes. One of the most interesting parts of Dr. Metchnikoff's lecture was that in which he detailed how microbes that are harmless when occupying what one might call their natural habitat, become injurious when they pass to another region of the body. Thus it is that, in certain diseases, the germs that are innocuous while they reside on the skin surface, produce boils and other ailments when they pass inward and invade what is to them foreign territory. In the mouth, which is a veritable hot-house as far as the growth of germs is concerned, over 30 species of microbes have been found, and Metchnikoff attributes the rapid healing of wounds in the mouth to the action of these microscopic tenants of ours. Clearly, the case of the microbe is much strengthened when we find that its presence is necessary, or at least, constant, in connection with certain important vital processes.

MAKES HIS CLAIM.

Man Who Drew No. 1 in Oklahoma Land Lottery Flakes a Shrewd Speculator.

Kansas City, Aug. 6.—A special from Fort Sill, says: John Wood, of Weatherford, O. T., who drew number one in the Lawton land district, created a sensation at the Land Office there, when filing for his claim those 160 acres running the entire length of the town site on the south. According to the government plan, the two most valuable sections in the whole reservation were made to adjoin the town site on the south. Miss Mattie Beale, the Wichita, Kas., telephone girl who had drawn two from the wheel, had counted on selecting one of these, but when Wood made the selection noted, she had to content herself with a tract south of Wood's and two sections away from the town site. Wood's claim is valued at about $50,000.

Vienna's Fine Buildings.

One indirect result of extreme taxes in Austria is the present magnificent buildings of Vienna, says a correspondent in the New York Tribune. Thirty-five years ago the city was full of very poor old wooden houses. The emperor caused a law to be passed that all buildings erected within a certain length of time and of a certain valuation should be free from impost for 30 years. This was such an inducement that an innumerable number of owners at once pulled down their old structures and built the stately affairs that do so much to give Vienna its unusually handsome squares and streets.

Use American Leads.

It became the painful duty of Dr. Torrance Fraser to report to the Presbyterian synod of Montreal and Ottawa, recently that American leaded are in use (because of their greater cheapness) in Canadian Sunday schools, and that "they breathe allegiance to the stars and stripes." By unanimous vote the synod admonished the Sunday schools under its care to use Canadian leaded hereafter.

Fashions For the Stout

The general run of fashion plates are the despair of those women whom nature has decreed for stoutness, or whom time has snowed with gray hair. Many fashion cuts show an impossible sylph-like form of women everlastingly youthful.

The Delineator whose long career of success shows that it meets the needs of women, contains in the September number a special article, carefully illustrated and devoted to the attire of stout and elderly women. This article, with its practical, useful advice about fabrics and quantities, will be appreciated by those who are neither slim nor under twenty-one.
